Representative John Boehner
US Capitol H-204
Washington, DC 20515

Governor Haley Barbour
400 High Street
Jackson, MS 39201

November 3, 2010

Dear Senator McConnell, Representative Boehner, and Governor Barbour:

On behalf of conservatives from across America we write to you on the occasion of this tremendous Republican victory to express our support, as well as our expectation that this victory will be used to restore the principles of limited, constitutional government.

We are united in strongly urging you, for the sake of our nation and its future, to go before the American people jointly and present a unified vision of what this Republican victory will stand for grounded upon these principles:

- A commitment to restoring free enterprise and implementing tax and spending reduction, deregulation, and other policies that promote economic growth and prosperity.
- A commitment to protect individual liberty by reducing the size and scope of the Federal government and to reducing government spending to only those functions entrusted to it in our great constitution.
- A commitment to restoring traditional moral values by passing laws that recognize the sanctity of life, promote rather than penalize traditional marriage and the family, and respect freedom of religion.
- A commitment to rebuilding our nation's military and establishing a foreign policy grounded upon America's national interest, rewarding our allies, and removing threats to freedom and security from abroad.

Now is the time for all Republican candidates and office holders to unite around these principles and to lead boldly. You are in positions to lead Republicans in putting aside personal ambitions and desires to retain positions of power and use the public offices entrusted to the Republican Party to address the momentous economic, moral and national security challenges our nation faces today, as our Founding Fathers did before us.

When you do that, you will have an opportunity to secure the blessings of liberty not only for our generation, but also for those who come after us. And, we know that conservatives, independents, Republicans and Democrats who love our country will be there with you.

Sincerely,

Edwin Meese III
