ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

On 20 January 2010, during an interview of Misty Croslin, by Detective John Merchant, in an unrelated case, Misty made the post-Miranda statements during a recorded interview, that her brother Hank "Tommy" Croslin Jr had several items in their residence that had been stolen in a recent burglary at an unknown location. Misty stated she witnessed several household items (ie toiletries, a Gatorade bottle containing miscellaneous coins) and knew the items did not belong in their residence. As a result of Misty's statements it was learned the residence next door to the Croslin's had been burglarized during the night before Misty's interview. The victim's reported only that a 12 gauge shotgun was stolen at the time the incident was reported. Contact was subsequently made with Lindsay Croslin, Tommy's spouse, and asked if she had witnessed a shotgun being brought into her residence in the past 24 hours. Lindsay stated she had not seen any firearms and the Sheriff's Office was more than willing to help her search her residence for the item because she did not want her children to locate a gun. During the search, several containers of alcohol were located stashed in the top of the master bedroom closet and numerous folded towels were discovered in the master bedroom bathroom. Though the firearm was never located in or around the residence it was later learned that all of the bath towels, bottles of liquor as well as numerous other toiletries were indeed stolen from the residence at 120 Tyler Street, along with the stolen shotgun.

On 21 January 2010, while continuing the investigation of the residential burglary at 120 Tyler Street in Satsuma I learned from Lindsay Croslin that she had located items at her residence that did not belong to anyone at the household and she believed her husband, Hank Croslin Jr, had stolen the items and kept them at their residence. The items she recognized as not belonging to anyone in the residence was the items listed above as well as several DVD movies and (4) Gameboy games. Lindsay had already gathered the items and had them awaiting law enforcement for recovery.

I retrieved the items from the Croslin residence and shed in hopes of identifying where the items had been taken from. Several neighbors on Tyler Street indicated to myself that Hank Croslin Jr, aka Tommy, was often seen walking up and down the roadways late at night so they believed any other items that were recovered would be from the immediate area. As a result of further investigative endeavors I discovered the residence at 111 Tyler St had its rear screened porch door cut open as well as a rear window pried open and also a broken locking mechanism from an exterior shed. The residence owner(s), Karen J. Paulsen, was ultimately contacted and confirmed that the residence had indeed been burglarized.

On 22 January 2010, I responded back to the area of Tyler Street in hopes of the home owner or designee, at 111 Tyler Street, being able to positively identify any items stolen from the residence. Upon arrival, contact was made with the key holder for 111 Tyler Street, Peggy Hayes, who identified the toiletries, golf cart battery charger and blender as belonging to the residence at 111 Tyler Street. The items were processed for latent prints and signed over to Hayes, per the home owner, Karen Paulson.

With the above information, a warrant charging Hank "Tommy" Croslin for the burglary and grand theft from 120 Tyler Street will be sought. Charges stemming from 111 Tyler Street will be forwarded at a later time for further review.
