Disclaimer: Please note the risk adjusted quality measures includes an adjustment for the Present on Admission (POA) indicator. The POA indicator identifies instances in which a condition was present on admission (i.e. pre-existing condition) and those that occur during the hospital stay. The POA indicator enables conditions present on admission to be identified and excluded from the quality measures when appropriate.

What the Pediatric Quality Measures mean:

-  - Fewer complications/infections than expected given how sick patients were (Better than expected)
-  - Expected number of complications/infections given how sick patients were (As expected)
- * - More complications/infections than expected given how sick patients were (Worse than expected)
- N/A - Not enough data to calculate.

Source: The results shown are posted as reported and certified by health care facilities to the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA), Florida Center for Health Information and Policy Analysis. This data is effective as of March 4, 2015.
